

2016-2017 Scholarship Recipient

Howard S. Lease Memorial Scholarship

Baxter Hagan

Senior, University of Washington

Baxter is working toward his Construction Management degree at the University of Washington. He is an active member of the AGC student chapter.

Baxter was born and raised in Kenmore. His interest in the construction industry began at an early age. His father was a project manager for many years, and his passion for building rubbed off on Baxter through various home-improvement projects throughout his childhood. Upon graduation, Baxter hopes to follow in his father's footsteps and one day become a project manager for a commercial contractor. He also hopes to be able to serve as a mentor for young people who are interested in the construction industry.

Baxter just completed his first internship at Howard S. Wright as a project engineer. In his spare time, he enjoys fishing, crabbing, waterskiing and enjoying everything the Pacific Northwest has to offer. He also loves spending time with his family at their cabin on Whidbey Island and taking camping trips all around Washington.
