

2016-2017 Scholarship Recipient Employees of GLY Construction Scholarship

Panghyun “Logan” Chun Senior, University of Washington

Logan is pursuing his degree in Construction Management at the University of Washington. He is an international student from South Korea, and has been studying in America since 2007.

Logan first became interested in construction while serving in the Republic of Korean Army as a tank operator. He was involved in numerous small construction operations at his base. He has a strong interest in high-rise buildings and commercial projects that focus on modern building techniques. Logan has worked as an intern at Turner Construction since November 2015. He worked on a large apartment and hotel project located at First and Stewart before moving to the Second and Pine high-rise apartment building project located in the heart of downtown Seattle. He is looking forward to expanding his knowledge through his current internship as well as his education.

Looking forward, Logan plans to continue his education to achieve his Master's in Construction Management, and wants to be involved thoroughly within the industry internationally. In his spare time, he enjoys playing soccer, hiking, boating, travelling, and spending time with friends.
