Marie Landsverk

Senior, Washington State University

Marie is working toward her Construction Management degree at Washington State University. She serves as the treasurer for the Associated Students of Construction Management, a member of the DBIA student chapter, treasurer for the Voiland College of Engineering and Architecture Coordinating Council, previously served as the vice president of Standards and Accountability for the Panhellenic Council, and is an alumni of Alpha Phi International Fraternity and alumni of Order of Omega.

Marie's interest in the construction industry began day one, as both her parents own and operate a residential construction company operating in south Snohomish County. This upbringing originally sparked her interest, which translated to the pursuit of a degree in Construction Management once at WSU. She previously served as an intern with Wilcox Construction during the summer of 2015, and spent the summer of 2016 interning with Howard S. Wright.

After graduation, Marie hopes to spend time traveling with friends and family before moving back to the Pacific Northwest, where she hopes to work for a commercial construction company. After a few years of industry experience, she hopes to gain further her education in the construction law field.
