Build Your Future

June 27-30, 2017

A high-school summer program focusing on education and leadership in the built environment

Program Highlights

- Tour iconic Seattle structures and current construction projects
- Meet CWU, UW, and WSU Construction Management faculty to get on admissions radar at all three universities
- Explore the cutting-edge technology construction managers use everyday
- Network with current students, professionals and top executives to find out what a Construction Management career is really like

The Career Path

Interested in engineering, architecture, design, and/or business? Construction Management combines each of these fields and allows students clear career opportunities in one of the most dynamic, fastest-growing industries in Washington.
