Joseph Worley

Senior, University of Washington

My name is Joe Worley, and I am working toward my Construction Management degree at the University of Washington. I was directly admitted to the Construction Management Program as a freshman. I am the Captain of the 2019 ASC Reno Mixed-Use team and a member of the University of Washington Construction Management honor society.

I learned about construction early in my life from my father who works in the industry. While choosing a major, I was drawn to the pragmatism and complexity that the built environment offers. I am grateful that I had inside knowledge of this major, and am looking forward to learning and working in the industry.

I have been working at GLY construction since June of 2017 and will continue to work on the Lakefront Blocks in South Lake Union for the foreseeable future. My primary duties consist of site work and exterior enclosure coordination. Prior to GLY, I was an intern at Swinerton Builders and worked with the Restaurant T.I. division. In my spare time, I enjoy reading, playing the piano, and hiking. I co-founded a student led hiking club at UW, which now has over 3,000 members. I have loved the opportunity to introduce first time hikers to the many trials of the Pacific Northwest. I hope to continue chasing my passions and make an impact in both the natural and built environments upon my graduation.
