KINDRA SCOBBA

Central Washington University

Kindra Scobba is originally from Vancouver, WA and is a graduate of Prairie High School. She is currently pursuing a major in Construction Management at Central Washington University. Kindra serves on the Student Athlete Advisory Committee, and is a member of CWU's AGC student chapter. She has been on the varsity soccer team throughout college. Kindra is a recipient of the AGC Education Foundation's 2013-2014 Betcher Family Foundation Scholarship and the Hugh. S. Ferguson Endowment Scholarship.

Her first exposure to construction was at CWU. She said her math-oriented mind directed her toward engineering, but once she found the construction management degree she knew it was for her. She fell in love with the commercial side of it, she said, and switched her path from heavy/civil.

Kindra was an intern for Mortensen Construction last summer and was asked to come back again this summer to finish the same project. Kindra is looking forward to going back, as she said she sees a future with the company after graduation. Kindra's mother was diagnosed with breast cancer several times, and she said she saw several unappealing waiting rooms—it was Mortensen's beautiful healthcare facilities that drew her to the company. "I want to be a part of something like that," she said.

The AGC Education Foundation is proud to support Kindra. We look forward to seeing her contributions to the industry.
