Nolan Menen

Senior, University of Washington

My name is Nolan Menen, and I am working toward my Construction Management degree at the University of Washington. I am a member on the Commercial Construction team for the ASC Reno Competition.

My interest in the construction industry began at a very young age. My father has been a part of the demolition industry since I was born. I knew that the construction industry was for me when I first stepped foot on a jobsite as a child. I began my career in construction as a laborer and operator in 2013. These jobs taught me what it takes to get the job done from the field.

In 2016, I interned for Sundt Construction and am now currently interning for Foushée and Associates, Inc. I am working on a private school in Redmond and a Toyota dealership in Edmonds as a Project Engineer Intern. After graduation, I hope to work full-time as a Project Engineer for a successful construction company and eventually be promoted to a Project Manager. I also have a dream to eventually start my own construction or demolition company in the future.

In my spare time I love hunting, fishing, watching sports, and spending time outdoors.
